

Waitlist Management System

Regional Nursing Home Board

A Regional Nursing Home Board required a system to facilitate the management of a single waiting list for long-term healthcare facilities. The system would have to record basic personal profiles of each applicant thereby increasing accountability and integration of the system.

xwave implemented the Waitlist Management System to assist healthcare facilities in matching patients with nursing homes and reducing long wait times. When an institutional vacancy arises, the system helps waiting list managers find the most appropriate person to fill the vacancy. Other information collected and managed by the system includes assessment summaries and paneling summaries.
